During a long and distinguished career at Boston Latin School, Mr. Page, beloved mathematics teacher and senior activities coordinator, has shown his dedication to the school through his visible presence and, even more so, through his work behind the scenes. After graduating from Harvard in 1959, he did not take long to return to teach at his alma mater and has continued to do so for more than thirty years. He is the faculty member longest in residence. An active alum, he has shown his love for the school by his conscious and caring attitude towards the school and its students. His students describe him as fair but tough and, most importantly, always ready to bend over backwards to help a student. The impact he has made upon his innumerable students and the quality of the school is not measurable. His never ending guidance to the seniors and his pride in the school only further demonstrates his feeling that the Latin School is an extended family whom he nurtured and loved throughout his teaching career at BLS. Mr. Page is quite a remarkable man, and we, the Class of 1995, would like to honor him and express our appreciation for his devotion as a teacher and a friend.

Res Scholasticae

Mr. Miller, Mr. Contompasis, 1976

Headmaster's Address

To the class of 1995,

Sixteen years ago, I wrote this commencement address to the graduates of the class of 1979. My remarks at that time touched on issues that I felt were a major concern to the long-term well-being of our great country . . . As I re-read the address, I found that the remarks continue to be relevant and important. So, with a few minor changes, I repeat my address and hope that you give it your serious consideration.

I congratulate you, the class of 1995, for the truly outstanding achievement and honor that you have brought to yourselves, your family and your Alma Mater. The years spent at Boston Latin School have exposed you to a curriculum which continues to flourish and to serve as the keystone upon which the Latin School experience is founded. Our emphasis on quality education is derived from the constant and judicious blending of established science and proven methods with the best of new fields, new content and new techniques. As long as excellence remains the standard by which new ideas enter the curriculum, and by which new generations of students (and teachers also) are judged, then we shall remain true to our heritage of excellence. This is the legacy that we, as dedicated and concerned alumni, have inherited, must preserve and must continue, as did our predecessors.

This commencement marks an end as well as a beginning. It is perhaps fitting, therefore, that we pause a moment to reflect on what the future holds. It is a time, also, to reflect on what purpose we wish to dedicate our future endeavors. How can we ensure that the pride in our performance and the dedication to excellence nurtured these many years at the Boston Latin School will stand us in good stead for the future? How can we be certain fifty years from now that we have lived meaningful and purposeful lives?

We as a people seem inclined to accept average or mediocre performance. Mediocrity can destroy us just as perils more famous. It is important that we remember to distinguish between what it means to fail at a task and what it means to be mediocre. There is all the difference in the world between the life lived with dignity and style which ends up failing, and one which achieves power and glory, yet is dull, unoriginal, unreflective, and mediocre. In a real sense, what matters is not so much whether we make a large sum of money, hold a prestigious job, or whether we don't; what matters is that we become people who can enjoy our own company.

For the person who strives to excel, to shoulder responsibility, and to speak out, there is an enemy wherever he turns. The enemy is a person who has a total willingness to delegate his worries about the world to officialdom. The enemy is any man or woman whose only concern about the world is that it stay in one piece during his own lifetime . . . Nothing to him is less important than the shape of things to come or the needs of the next generation.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson tells us that the practice of convenience leads to collapse, but the laws of sacrifice lead to greatness. To struggle against these enemies and against apathy and mediocrity is to find greatness and the purpose of life. I suggest that you dedicate your life to the struggle against complacency and mediocrity.

I wish you, the members of the Class of 1995, much happiness, joy and peace. May your successes be many and your failures few.

God bless you all.
Thank you.

The Death came,
how unfairly it took you away.
To that place we dream of going someday.
Where the grass is always greener and the sky's never gray.
We hate how death selfishly took you away.
Leaving us to fend for ourselves.
We ask so many questions,
but with no answers in reply.
Why ask why they say.
What's gone will be forever gone.

GOLF

This years Varsity Golf had a great turn out of young talent, which was led by the example of senior captains James McDonald and Nathan Robbins. Other supportive team players were Fran Navarro, Michael Rhodes, and Dave Brophy.

The girls swim team finished the season at 5-6. Despite this record there was no lack of effort, spirit, or talent. This year's captains were seniors Caity O'Reilly (100 Back, 200 Free), Maureen Hickey (100 Fly, 50 Free), Cristina McLaughlin (50 Free, 100 Free), and Marie McLaughlin (Diving). They, along with junior Kathleen Wallace, completed successfully at the South Sectionals. Caity, Cristina, and Marie also qualified for State level competition. Not to be forgotten were seniors Anna Braun, Alicia Prodas-Monne, Eugenia Kiu, and Jalene Tamerat who also contributed to the team's success.

SWIMMING

GIRLS SOCCER

The girls varsity soccer legacy was finally conquered when they beat Bedford 3-1 for their first Dual County win in over a decade. The team, led by two All-Star Captains — goalie Susan Russo and stopper Christine Sweeney, and along with seniors Erin Chalmers, Keryl Dimaggio, Merideth Kaizer, started a tradition of winning that will continue in future seasons.

BOYS SOCCER

Captains Brendan Greally and Vincent Letteri, with the help of rising young team, pulled the team together to finish the season with a winning record. Brendan and Vincent alternating as goalie and striker, and outstanding performance by Paul McNeil, Andrew Rawlings, and Liam Bayer proved to be what the team needed for success this season.

CROSS COUNTRY

This year's Cross Country team had a problem with enrollment but ignored this and continued to have a superb season anyway. The team was led by Angela Bayer who had some help by many teammates such as Colleen Madden, Matthew Wertz, Thomas McGah, and Addey Parker.

FOOTBALL

This year's team was lead by Dan Gibbons and Zach Falconer, two explosive players who had a strong supporting cast of senior starters: Peter DiSanto, Ernesto Padilla, Eurskin Feagin, Sterling Bishop, Myron Allukian, Derek Allen, and Shahid Anderson.

THANKSGIVING GAME

Chalk up consecutive win number 13 for the Wolfpack in the oldest school rivalry in the country. This year's team proved to be everything that they were said to be. They came on strong in the first quarter when the Latin Offense scored on their first play from the line of scrimmage. Although the offense was unstoppable, scoring almost every time they touched the pigskin, the game was won by the Stonewall defense which denied English the honor of putting any points on the board. A large factor of the game was the overflowing stands of Latin friends, families, and alumni whom cheered the team onto their 60th win in this rivalry, which dates back to the late 1800's.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Dual County League Champions Girls Basketball team was led by senior captian and all star Cara Gearty to the semi finals of the state tournament. The other seniors include Erin Chalmers, also an all star, Meredith Kaizer, another all star, another all star, Amy Okiwe, and Christine Bennett. The lady Wolfpack would not be complete without Freshman all star and league MVP Annie Tomansini and 8th grade all star Kristen McDonnell.

HOCKEY

The hockey team enjoyed a great season finishing with a 12-8-2 record, good enough for 2nd in the dual county and qualified for tournament play, the 18th time in 19 years. Outstanding Seniors Conal Barbuto, Jaime Cahill, Mike Breen, Rick Ureck, Ted Sullivan, and Mike Rhodes.

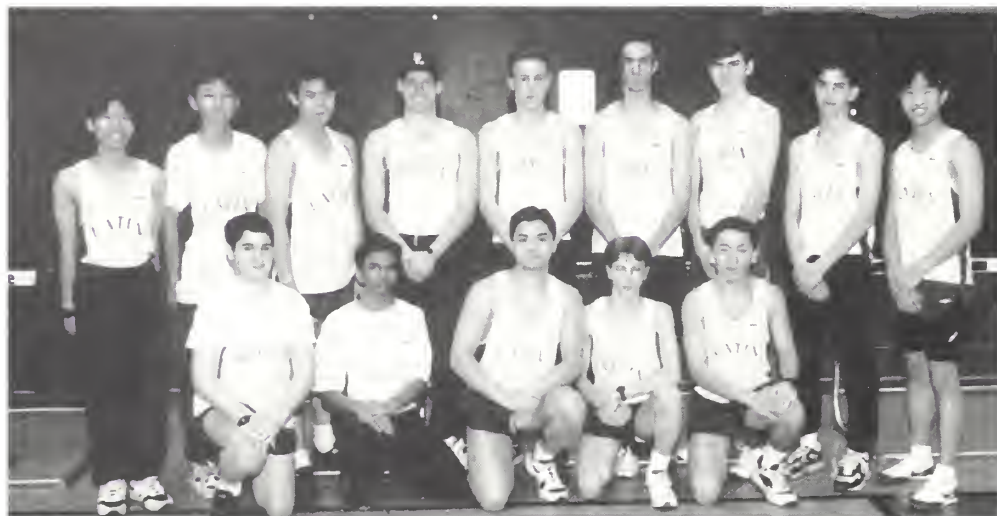

BOYS BASKETBALL

This year's team was led by seniors, Sterling Bishop, Kevin Zarnoch (All-star), Michael Lorizio, Jim McDonnell, Ben Allen, Nathan Robbins, and Adam Olsson. These seniors led the team well enough to qualify for tournament play.

INDOOR TRACK

This years indoor track team was lead by the outstanding performances of senior members Andy Rawlings, Peter DiSanto, Angela Bayer, Ino Okwowa, and Lina Alexander. Also Juniors Erika Rice and Alex McCormick added to the team by qualifying for state competition.

BOYS SWIMMING

This years squad was filled with many outstanding athletes who increased the success of the team. The seniors consisted of John Fitzgerald, Jason Serino, Paul McNeil, Chris Graul, Brendan Phalan, and Vin Litteri. A strong performance was also made by Matt Chadovoyne who is ranked third in the state.

WRESTLING

This years revamped wrestling squad lit up the mat with sensational performances by Myron Allukian, ranked 5th in the state and sectional champ, David Sherer, and Kamau Pritchard.

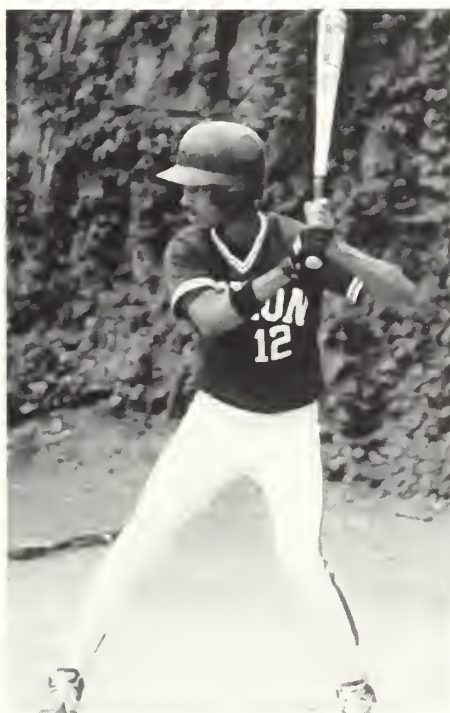

SAILING

Despite rough waters, the sailing team, under the leadership of Blossom Woo, sailed smoothly into the sunset.

B A S E B A L L

At a loss for seniors this year, the Latin Baseball Team had a tough time living up to its usual reputation. Although the year proved to be a rebuilding one, Eric Paulino and Aras Knassas, who impressively led the Dual County League in hitting, will backbone the future.

T R A C K

Led by the seniors Angela Bayer, Lina Alexander, Christine Bennett, Amy Okiwe, Ernesto Padilla, Andy Rowlings, Kenneth Suprin and Matthew Wertz, this year's track team performed with vigor and completed a satisfactory season.

The highlights of the Wolfpack's season were the victories over the undefeated Dual County League Champs Westford Academy and the two wins over Boston Latin Academy. Seniors Susan Russo, Erin Chalmers, Meredith Kaizer, Christine Sweeney, Christine Lydon, Kelly Gushue, Nicole Collins, and Elizabeth Breen were significant factors in the Wolfpack's season. Continuously improving sophomore pitcher Michelle Hughes and Athletic prodigy Kristen McDonnell will continue the softball tradition.

SOFTBALL

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!!! The Boys Volleyball Team will miss many talented players next year with the loss of seniors Hamilton Ho, Allen Yu, Steve Ng, Garvin Hui, Kent Wu, Kin Wong, Vinnie Letteri, Kenny Lee, Jamie Soohoo, and Koon Lam. Determination led the team to a respectable 10-10-season, while persistence accompanied them in their triumph against Newton North in the State Tournament.

VOLLEYBALL

With their leadership, Mary DeSouza, Richard DeSouza and Brian Whittemore carried on Boston Latin School's traditional game of tennis. Although this was not an exceptional year for the team, they succeeded in demonstrating their school spirit.

SEMPER FG!

On Saturday morning, November 5, 1994, Mr. Paul A. O'Brien, the then-Chairman of the English Department at Boston Latin School, died of cardiac arrest while proctoring the Latin School Entrance Exam at West Roxbury High School. Mr. O'Brien had joined the Latin School community in 1992 as head of the English Department. He had also taught American literature to members of Class III. His commitment to the Latin School did not stop at teaching. Mr. O'Brien, who had visited each of the fifty states, loved to travel and organized a school trip to London during April vacation last year. He had planned a trip to Italy for this past April. Mr. O'Brien was not a traditional teacher. He strove to make each day a new and interesting experience, and succeeded. He treated his students as equals, and in doing so, made them comfortable in his classroom. He afforded all of us the highest respect. Mr. O'Brien was, as one student put it, a true gentleman: kind, warm, dedicated. Mr. O'Brien, our friend, our teacher, thank you, and farewell.

Congratulations and best wishes to the graduates of Boston Latin School's Class of 1995.
